- Utterly strange and yet somehow entirely logical on its own terms. Funny and disturbing and, at time, quite moving.
- Formally striking and intelligently provocative themes.
- Very thought provoking.
- Brilliant. This is what films should be like! I loved it! The idea, the cinematography, the light etc., etc,. It was my 66th birthday today and this was a wonderful birthday treat. Thank you
PS: The dancing! The choreography gets an Oscar, I really related to it.
- If only the ancient Greeks had a cine camera! Definitely the dog's bollocks of a film!
- A film that will stay with me for a very long while, as, I assume, intended by the director. Fantastic acting. An intelligent, imaginative and disturbing approach to question what is child protection and what is child abuse.

'Very Good': 7 votes

- Weird – very weird but enjoyable!
- Very disturbing but extremely well done
- Enjoyed the 'editing' – look of the film. The meaning will take sometime to emerge!
- A fascinating film. Very enjoyable.
- Brilliant escape! Interesting.
- Just proves that the human imagination is limitless but sadly real-life examples have proved this is all too possible. Excellent performances (although it feels strange saying that!)
- Wait until you ??? of Austrian builders.

- Bizarre but entertaining

- Beautifully shot – But I cannot see why everyone in the world should see this expose of perversions and simple speech and story. (At first I thought the film might believing that governments lead their member citizens with the same trust and innocence/ ignorance.
- Unusual – humane behaviour would probably be that bizarre given those circumstances.

'Satisfactory': 2 votes

- The film was beginning to be interesting when it ended, which is a cop-out I think. It's no good setting up a scenario without reaching some climax.
- A very sad reflections on inadequate and rigid parents who destroy their own children and have none of the joy of seeing their offspring mature.

'Poor': 10 votes

- Dogshite!
- Could someone explain?
- Pointless illustration of typical male domination and brutality and control freakery.
- Rubbish.
- Utter rubbish!
- Yuk, thoroughly unpleasant.
- A vile film.
- Very unpleasant film.
- Unremitting tedium. A waste of a night out.
- As odd as a box of unpleasant frogs.

- Painful, rubbish, best watched with eyes shut!!
- Unquantifiable - I blame the parents.
- Unclassifiable – weird.

- No wonder the Greek economy is in a mess.
- Peculiar.
