

Member feedback: SUBMARINE

Thirty nine people voted. The breakdown and comments are listed below

'Excellent': 24 votes

- Knocks 'Son of Rambo' into a cocked hat!
- Very good.
- Poignant, funny, touching and brilliantly written. A real gem.
- Very enjoyable film, good one to season.
- Hilarious & heart breaking. Glad it had a happy ending.
- Most enjoyable film, well acted and amusing observations of youth and angst.
- Very good film to finish the season, funny touching beautifully drawn characters.
- A mixture of Adrian Mole & Bridget Jones plus the sort of film we'd all like to make. Perfect evocation of teenage relationships carried on in full view of everyone else at school.
- Horribly reminiscent of 70's schools! A great debut.
- A good film to end the season on. Up beat for a change! Thoroughly enjoyable.
- One of the best this season.
- Super film and great soundtrack.
- Captured fully the failings of being young! Thank you.
- Well produced and directed.
- Very enjoyable.
- Great film to end season on.
- Marvellous picture of teenage angst.
- Favourite film of the season. Beautiful scenery, utterly engaging.
- Great film. One of the best this season.

- Truffaut meets the Inbetweeners brilliant! Also, good to see some excellent young British actors out there.
- Showed its disadvantages of being too young. Better to sleep until 25.
- Thoroughly enjoyed this film – some nostalgic moments! Very much of its time.
- A good one to finish the season.

'Very good': 10 votes

- Excellent photography and good acting by cast.
- Extremely engaging! Funny!
- Light, funny, frothy!
- Original stuff and amusing too.
- Very enjoyable.
- Well observed, not particularly a film to see over and over again!

'Good': 3 votes

- Entertaining, rite of passage, film Very good young actors.

'Satisfactory': 1 vote

- Very witty but actually quite boring, cannot really explain.

'Poor': 0 votes

'Unmarked': 1 vote

- If you show films like this the club will fold.